

NEW UTILITY ARBORIST SUPERSTARS

Congratulations to Hamilton Team on achieving their qualification

“ Good on them!

It's not easy working all day and then still putting in the effort to do papers at home in order to qualify.

This will be good for their futures within the industry.

And thanks to Hugo Van In, our Hamilton Business Manager, for getting behind the guys on this.

Lawrence Schicker, Hamilton Training Officer

Congratulations are in order!

We were proud to present certificates to seven of the guys who have achieved their New Zealand Certificate in Electrical Supply – Utility Arboriculture.

This is a level 3 Certificate done over 12 months. Graduates now have knowledge and skills to perform Utility Arboriculture to legislated and industry standards and requirements, and to take responsibility for their work while ensuring public safety. The guys have had to put in the effort both within a classroom setting and working at home after hours.
